

Nyla Hennings

East Adams Rural Hospital and District Clinics would like to introduce Nyla (Telecky) Hennings, our highlighted employee this week.

Nyla Hennings is the receptionist for Ritzville Medical Clinic. Her responsibilities include checking in and registering patients for their appointments, assisting and directing patients and visitors as they come into the clinic.

Nyla was born in Spokane, WA. She has lived in Ritzville all of her life. Nyla is the oldest of two children. She and her husband Harold have three children and five grandchildren.

Prior to Nyla coming to Ritzville Medical Clinic, in 1991, she worked for John and Laverne Pavlik at the Ritzville Journal. While at the Journal she set type, put together ads, and worked in the dark room developing the journal pictures and full page negative sheets. During the sixteen years that she has worked for the District, she has also done billing and coding for the clinic. The best part of her job is "helping the patients with whatever is needed."

Some of Nyla's goals are getting to Alaska more often to see their children and grandchildren, more fun time with granddaughter Harlee, planning a new home in the future and retirement.

Outside of work, Nyla enjoys working around home, yard, and occasionally showing the family "I can still cook and bake." Her greatest accomplishment is having "a great family."
