

Neva Malby

East Adams Rural Hospital and District Clinics would like to introduce Neva Malby, our highlighted employee this week.

Neva Malby is a full time EMT at East Adams Rural Hospital. Her responsibilities include going on ambulance runs and taking care of those patients. In addition to being an EMT, Neva also works as a nurses aide in the hospital and works with the visiting podiatrist at the hospital. She also assists in the dietary and physical therapy departments.

Neva was born in Yakima, WA. She grew up in Grandview and moved to Ritzville on Labor Day in 1994 with her mother. They moved here because this is where her mom grew up.

Neva is the youngest of three daughters. She has four boys. Neva received her EMT license in May of 2000 and began working for the District in June of 2000.

One of Neva's goals is to go back to school and either become a nurse or a paramedic.

Neva decided to go into healthcare because she likes helping people and a couple of friends talked her into becoming an EMT because they knew that she would be good at it. The best thing about her job is she always likes to learn new things and the adrenaline rush that you get when going on an ambulance run.

In her busy life she always enjoys her naps. She also enjoys watching football, both high school and professional, and going on walks with her kids and/or pets.
